The Architecture of Living

A Arquitetura do Habitar

LUANDA · ANGOLA · MMXXVI

EDITORIAL

Made to Measure

NASER Design Collection is not a catalogue of furniture. It is a record of architecture at the scale of the object. Each piece begins where a building ends — at the threshold, the table, the door, the shelf — and is drawn, engineered and made by hand to the measure of a single place. We work in steel, stone and solid timber, in the language of permanence. Nothing here is mass-produced; everything is made to measure. This first volume gathers eleven collections and the pieces already realised and delivered — the beginning of a longer body of work.

A NASER Design Collection não é um catálogo de mobiliário. É um registo de arquitetura à escala do objeto. Cada peça começa onde um edifício termina — no limiar, na mesa, na porta, na estante — e é desenhada, projetada e feita à mão à medida de um único lugar. Trabalhamos em aço, pedra e madeira maciça, na linguagem da permanência. Nada aqui é produzido em série; tudo é feito à medida. Este primeiro volume reúne onze coleções e as peças já realizadas e entregues — o início de um corpo de trabalho mais longo.

SILVA

Order in the Wildwood.

Console · Consola de Entrada

SILVA is order drawn from the wildwood. A clean plane of solid oak rests on a dense scatter of fine black-steel rods — apparent chaos, precisely composed. The first gesture of the hall: calm above, alive beneath. No two are ever alike.

A SILVA é a ordem extraída da floresta. Um plano depurado em carvalho maciço assenta sobre uma teia densa de finas varas de aço preto — um acaso aparente, composto com precisão. O primeiro gesto do vestíbulo: sereno em cima, vivo por baixo. Não há duas iguais.

VERTEX

Where the lines converge.

Console · Consola de Entrada

VERTEX carries its weight to a single point. A solid walnut top floats from the wall onto one triangular blade of black steel, down to an apex on the floor. Three diagonal channels echo the geometry. Presence without bulk — the hall, drawn to a point.

O VÉRTICE conduz o seu peso a um único ponto. Um tampo em nogueira maciça flutua da parede sobre uma lâmina triangular de aço preto, até um ápice no chão. Três canais diagonais ecoam a geometria. Presença sem volume — o vestíbulo, reduzido a um ponto.

LIGNUM

Raw timber, precisely held.

Console · Consola de Entrada

LIGNUM keeps the beam whole. A single length of reclaimed oak — live edges, open checks, the marks of its years — is held to the wall by one forged steel strut, rising from a black channel on the floor. Raw mass, precisely restrained. The hall, grounded in time.

O LIGNUM mantém a viga inteira. Um só troço de carvalho recuperado — arestas vivas, fendas abertas, as marcas dos anos — é seguro à parede por uma escora forjada em aço, vinda de uma caleira preta no chão. Massa bruta, contida com precisão. O vestíbulo, ancorado no tempo.
